

M.Phil. (EDUCATION)
(2022-2023 Onwards)

SYLLABUS

MPHDR – DISSERTATION

Course Learning Outcomes:

At the end of the process, the prospective teacher-educators will be able to

- appreciate the need for Research in Education;
- apply the appropriate methods in the research work;
- construct/ select tools in line with the variables of study;
- employ suitable statistical techniques for the analysis of data;
- interpret the data analyzed to discover the findings of the research study; and
- extend the findings of the research undertaken to the educational process.

Candidates are expected to submit report of the research conducted by them comprising of conceptual framework, related literature, methodology, analysis and discussion, and summary and conclusion under the guidance of the Research Supervisor.